Finding a Wife at Church.

Many years ago, a son of a Scotch lord, traveling in this country, happened to spend a Sunday in Stratford, Conn. Finding the hours long and weary, he dropped into the church, and soon became more interested in the face and voice of a beautiful young lady in the choir than the preacher's sermon. The impression made was a permanent one. On inquiry, he found that she belonged to a poor family, but was highly esteemed for her noble personal qualities. He made her acquaintance, which ripened into respect and love.

The young lady was placed under the best educational influences, and afterward taken to Scotland as the wife of the young traveler. Prof. Benjamin Silliman, of Yale College, who was born at Stratford, had often heard the romantic story, but had never learned the name of the Scotch lord. When he visited Scotland, he met one day, at a dinner table, Lord Sterling and his accomplished wife. He was charmed with the courtly manners and the conversational gifts of the lady, which rose to positive pleasure when he found that she was the heroine of the romantic story so often told in his native town. He was proud to know that an American of humble birth was such an illustrious ornament to the Scotch peerage.

Reverence to Age.

The wise man says, "the hoary head is a crown of glory when found in the ways of righteousness." And so it ought to be esteemed. But, somehow or other, it does not really seem that even matured old age does not command that respect from the young now which it once did. Even grown up children now a-days, often speak of parents, that should be revered, as "the old man," and "the old woman," little imagining how it shocks the moral sense of those whose better nature and more refined sensibilities revolt at such impiety, such unfilial ways. Among certain of the ancients, want of reverence to parents was accounted among the greatest of crimes, while lack of veneration even to the stranger, who had grown old, was attributed to lack of breeding. And so should it be in this our day, "fast" as the age is reported to be. Would that all our youth might be taught this lesson, and bow reverently to age!

Rev. John Carter, of Bramford, in Suffolk, England, a man learned and modest, was dining at the house of a worthy Alderman of Ipswick, when one of the company boasted of his own acquirements, and proceeded to such length that he challenged any one present to start a question in theology or philosophy to which he could not give a ready and satisfactory answer. An awful silence fell on the guests at this proposal, and for a few seconds no sound was heard but the clatter of knives and forks, when Mr. Carter looked up and said: "My plate furnishes me with a question. Here is a fish that has always lived in salt water; pray tell me why he should come out of it a fresh fish, and not a salt one?" This simple query utterly discomfited the bully, who for the remainder of the feast ate much and spoke little.

One of the teachers in a Binghampton public school received, the other day, an excuse written in behalf of a delinquent pupil by the father. It runs in this wise:

MR. TEACHER.—Dot poy of mine vos absent de oder dey ven he shtaid out. He got von big cold in his neck vot made him much trouble all de vile. Please don't give him some bunishment ven he vas late in de morning. He woult got there shust in time every day, but he not himself to blame, he is got no mother. She vos dead 10 years ago, I am this boys parent by his mother before she was dead.

That certain insects possess a power akin to reason is illustrated by Gleditsch, a German naturalist, who relates that he one day spitted a toad on a stick which he fixed upright in the ground. The odor of the decaying body of the reptile attracted a number of burying beetles; but as they found they could do nothing with the toad while in the air, they mined under the base of the stick until it fell, when they buried toad and stick together. Such an engineering attempt would seem to indicate the presence of a definite purpose.

Of a certain Eastern ex-Governor a pleasing story is related. Once upon a time he visited Worcester and called upon an acquaintance, who owned many fine pictures. The ex-Governor went about the room examining these until he came to a painting of the "Madonna" hanging above the mantel. He peered up through his eye glass. "And who er-is this?" he asked. "That," said his acquaintance, "it is a 'Madonna.'" "Ah!" said the ex-Governor, blandly, "is she a Worcester lady?"

The topophone is a new cientific instrument for determining the direction from which sound waves come. Aside from its value in acoustic investigations, it must prove practically useful at sea in locating for signals.

A three-year old youngster saw a drunken man "tacking" through the street. "Mother," said he "did God make that man?" "Yes, my child." The little boy reflected a moment and then exclaimed, "I wouldn't have done it."

If you would not have afflictions visit you twice, listen at once to what it teaches.

LORD LAWRENCE.—A story of him was worth recording as an instance of his lofty dealing and good influence upon inferior minds. During the conduct of some important cause for a young Indian Rajah, the Prince endeavored to place in his hands, under the table, a bag of rupees. He answered at once: "Young man, you have offered to an Englishman the greatest insult which he could possibly receive. This time, in consideration of your youth, I excuse it. Let me warn you by this experience never again to commit so gross an offence against an English gentleman." Many of them would never forget the moral effect upon themselves of his indefatigable, untiring industry, so long as health and eyesight were left to him—his profound contempt for the idle, lounging, loitering habits in which so much of human existence is expended and destroyed. Any one who saw him felt at once that his presence had a certain majestic dignity and assured repose, which made us feel confident that in his presence, and in whatever emergency, we were perfectly safe. He was not only a leader of men, but a leader on whom men could rely without the apprehension of those sudden weaknesses and betrayals by which some of the most gifted of the human race have diffused around them a sense not of security but of mistrust.

A HORSE'S SENSES OF SMELL.—An African pony, unlike Job's war horse, "smelleth" not "the battle afar off," but he will smell a poisonous snake at a sufficient distance to avoid him. An English gentleman was leading his pony one day in South Africa, when he saw his Kaffir servant suddenly jump on one side. Knowing that it was a snake that had alarmed him, the gentleman dropped his reins and went forward to kill it. It was a puff adder, the reptile which, it is thought, Cleopatra used to commit suicide. Killing it with a stone, he examined its glands and found them filled with poison. On returning to the pony and advancing his hand to take the reins, the horse shied back in great alarm. For several minutes he would not allow his master to approach. Some of the odor of the adder had attached itself to the gentleman's hands and the cautious animal, being warned by his sense of smell was afraid that there was danger even in his master's touch. The horse's nose is, as every boy who has trained a colt knows, one of his means of gaining knowledge. If a horse is afraid of an object the best way to remove his fear is to let him smell of it.

DISTRIBUTION OF PLANTS.—Prof. Meehan remarks in the Independent that is one of the most remarkable facts in vegetable physiology that Nature does not put species where they will do best, but evidently where she wants them, quite independently of their wishes and desires, if plants might be supposed to have any. Thus trees which Nature places in swamps do much better when man places them on comparatively dry ground. And we know how remarkably well many plants thrive as weeds in our country, in comparison to what they do in their own lands. A recent illustration of this is a fact recorded of the watercress in New Zealand, where it has found a home as an emigrant from Europe. In that country and also in this, to which it has also been introduced, the stems under the most favorable circumstances seldom exceed one's finger in thickness, but in New Zealand the stems grow thicker than one's wrist, and impede seriously the course of rivers and streams. The branches, here seldom more than a foot or so, reach a length of nearly 10 feet.

WASHING DISHES.—Do not set the little girls to washing dishes too early in life. In a large family or on a farm, it is one of the hardest, most bothersome tasks, requiring the most skill and patience of any that can be found. Let them clear the table and wipe the dishes, but do not put them at the dishwashing unless they wish it. They can sweep once in a while, and they can take small things; they can hang out clothes; they can even take a mop and wipe a certain section of floor or scrub a kitchen table with a brush, or fill a lamp, and they feel then that they have done something. There is change and variety in all these, and something has been accomplished, but washing dishes, for sooth! It has been so long given over to children and hirelings that it has fallen into disrepute, while the monotony of the occupation and the mess disgusts them.

If they propose to assist you in any way unless it be washing, always accept. Never let them have it to say, "I wanted to once, and now you make me do it."

The success of the so-called Quincy system in the primary schools of Boston is unequivocal. The progress made by the pupils in the five months during which it has been in operation has been remarkable, and nobody wants to go back to the old fashion. The Transcript notices that one very gratifying change which the Quincy system has brought into these schools is the marked and increased interest shown by the children in their work, the pleasure with which they go to school and master their tasks. The Transcript adds that the system makes a heavy draft upon the energy and patience of the teachers for its fundamental principle is that the teacher must teach, and not simply let the child learn. Yet the teachers that are engaged in it are enthusiastic in its praise, and point to attained results in support of their assertions of its superiority.

Let Well Enough Alone.

Senator Davis has introduced a bill in the Legislature, to materially change our exemption laws. It reduces the amount of property exempt from execution for debt in a great degree. Granting that the present exemption law is deficient in this respect, that it does not limit the value of money articles that are so exempt. For instance, libraries of lawyers, physicians and editors, are exempt, but there is no limit to their value. A lawyer or physician may have a library worth $10,000, or $20,000, and he may be one of the kind that "never misses a meal nor pay a cent," and may never pay a bill, although able to do so, but his library is exempt. A man is entitled to household furniture, etc. necessary for himself and family. A debtor may have in his house only enough furniture for his family, but it may be of the most costly character. He may have a bedstead worth $200 or $500, and everything else in proportion, but still it can not be seized for his debts; it is exempt under the law. If a man is insolvent—heels over head in debt—he should not be allowed to have a fortune exempted because it is in the shape of furniture and libraries. There should be an amount in value fixed for such exemptions. In the matter of a library, $1,000 will give a professional man a good one; and as to furniture, $1,000 should cover the value of all the furniture that should be exempted. The proposition to cut down the exemption of a poor man's mine from $1,000 to $500 is wrong. A mine that is worth $1,000 is not much for creditors to covet. The present exemption law has been in force for many years and has worked well; no one has been injured by its provisions, and it is well to let it severely alone. No one has asked for any changes, and it is time enough to alter it when the people, who are the ones interested, demand or ask for a modification of its provisions. So far as creditors are concerned, every business man knows what property is exempt from executions for debt, and it is easy for men to ascertain if the debtor possesses anything not exempt. It would be better for the country if we had no attachment laws, and no way of collecting debts. Honesty should be the only capital on which a man could obtain credit.

New Laws.

The following are the bills which have been signed by the Governor during the past week:

Granting relief to tax-payers where lands have been sold to the State:

Amending the Political Code in relation to revenue.

For the appointment of an additional deputy to the Clerk of the Supreme Court.

To prevent emigration from California. (Felton's Anti-Chinese bill.)

Amending the Code of Civil Procedure relating to appeals in civil actions.

Amending sections 407 and 412 of the Code of Civil Procedure relating to the manner of commencing actions.

Amending the Code of Civil Procedure relating to the proceedings in Justices Courts.

Appropriating money for the support of orphans.

Authorizing supervisors to fix rates of water for irrigating purposes.

AN ARIZONA TOWN.—Tombstone, the new center of mining interest on this Coast, is situated at an elevation of 4600 feet above the level of the sea, and about 600 feet above the level of the San Pedro Valley. It commands a superb view of the whole surrounding country, ranging for 40 or 50 miles. In Summer the mercury rarely rises above 90 degrees, thus presenting a remarkable contrast to the San Pedro Valley, where, and in Tucson, 117 degrees is a frequent experience. Two years ago there were not, in the whole Tombstone District over fifty white men. Now, in the District there are fully 3000 people, and in the town of Tombstone the population is fully 1000. It is in every respect an American town. When we state there are quite 32 saloons in its corporate limits, this fact would be at once appreciated. Pessimism is at a discount in this portion of Arizona Territory. Money is abundant and everybody is hopeful—as may well be the case, providing, always, that helpless and dependent people give the Territory a wide berth.

The King of Siam will leave Bangkok early in April to visit the chief capitals of Europe. After a short stay in England, he will start for the United States, and the American Government will send a man-of-war to Southhampton to convey him hither.

The Sutro Tunnel has so far cost about $4,090,000. The Company has 5,030 acres of mineral land thought to be valuable, and $994,134 93 in other property.

Edward G. Jefferies, a well known printer, and at the time of his death, Foreman of the State printing office, died at Sacramento on Sunday aged 52 years.

The vines grown on forty-eight acres in Sonoma county produced grapes from hich 25,000 gallons of merchantable wine was made last season.

In Los Angeles county there are 5,179,000 bearing vines, and 1,200,000 more were planted this winter.

Marysville has a population of about 5,000.

Three blood-hounds have been added to San Quentin force for taking escaped prisoners.

COAST.

Citizens' Ticket Ahead.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 31.—The count will not be completed till afternoon. At 10:30 it stood, Wilson, the highest man on the Citizens, ticket, 16,511; Hastings, the highest man on the Workingmen's ticket, 10,344. Nineteen precincts yet to hear from, with a vote of little more than 3,800. For Joint Senator, Byrnes, Republican, has 14,996; Freud, 11,196.

Another Good Deed.

SACRAMENTO, March 31.—The Senate, after a long debate, struck out the enacting clause of the bill regulating the levying of assessments upon the capital stock of corporations.

The V and T Railroad.

CARSON, March 31.—The engineers of the V. and T. Railroad were ordered to-day by Mechanics' Union to quit taking trains into Storey county. Superintendent Yerrington stated to the Appeal reporter last night that he would quit running the trains as fast as the engineers were ordered off. Serious trouble is apprehended.

EASTERN.

Disappearance.

NEW YORK, March 31.—William H. Kemble, ex-Treasurer of Pennsylvania, who failed to appear in Harrisburg, on Monday, to receive his sentence for bribery left his hotel here yesterday afternoon, stating that he was going home by the 4 o'clock train, and, entering a hack, was driven down town. He had not returned to the hotel at a late hour last night.

For Grant.

NEW YORK, March 31.—The Times Charleston, S. C., special says that the Oconee County Republican Convention yesterday, at Wathalla, adopted a resolution declaring Grant its choice for President. This was the first Convention held in the State. As several internal revenue officers are located at Watballa, it was believed that the county would send a Sherman delegation.

Will Have It.

NEW YORK, March 31.—The Herald Galveston special says there is no longer any doubt that the ex-President has fixed his mind on another term in the White House. He is as silent about it as the grave, but those who accompany him and his family do not conceal their eager desire to enter the White House, nor their dislike of any opposition to their wishes. They have fixed all their hopes on his success, and the ex-President not only seeks the nomination, but does not mean to be balked in his design. He will not withdraw; there is no doubt on this point. He is a candidate before the Convention, and he means that the Party shall nominate him, no matter how bitter the struggle may be, or how narrow the majority may be.

Barkis is Willing.

LEAVENWORTH, KANSAS, March 31.—Ouray, and two other chiefs, interviewed Douglass, who said he had expected to be hanged, and thought it better to be shot by the guard, so he ran away. Ouray says that he is willing that Douglass should be punished.

NEW ORLEANS, March 30.—The labor trouble in St. Johns Parish, caused Governor Wiltz to send there a battallion of militia. The negro strikers prevented others from working and in some cases whipped those who did work. The strike in St. Charles Parish, ended by most of the laborers going to work at the old wages.

FOREIGN.

Russia and China.

LONDON, March 31.—This morning's papers are full of the warlike attitude of China The small cloud that has appeared on the horizon of the far west is already fraught with meaning to the world. The Standard's St. Petersburg correspondent freely discusses the probabilities of a war with the Celestial Empire, and hopes that a collision may be avoided. The Russian Journals, for the most part argue that in case of war Russia should descend upon the seaboard of China in conjunction with the Japanese, whose friendship is to be zealously cultivated. The Standard's Berlin correspondent says in addition to his announcement that the Russians are endeavoring to induce the King of Burmah to join the Japanese and Siamese alliance; that a Japanese Prince will leave Tokio as an Envoy to Russia in April. Russia, in the meanwhile is sending more war ships to the Pacific. The Vienna correspondent of the Times says that Russia will make no concession, but will insist upon the satisfaction of the Kuldja Treaty.

Again Married.

LONDON, March 31.—Rev. Newman Hall, who in August last obtained a divorce, has married the lady to whom, as he admitted, during the trial he had communicated his intention to marry her in the event of the success of his suit against his wife.

Will Contest.

PARIS, March 31.—The religious associations of France will probably contest, in the Courts, the legality of the decrees of the Government, against unauthorizen religious societies, on the ground that the laws which the decrees are based on are obsolete.

THE CALIFORNIAN.—The April number of The Californian isathand. It contains a continuation of Gally's romance "Sand". R. D Milnis contributes an account of his sheepherder's life. Sam Davis gives a good story of "The Hermit of Treasure Peaks." Among other papers are, The Ethics of Suicide, "Our Ophidian Friend," Aqua Tibia. " and several other good ones. This magazine should have a good subscription list, and be made a permanent institution of our State.

John McAfee died at Quincy, Illinois, on Sunday last. He was, in 1860-61, Speaker of the Missouri House, and cast the deciding vote which prevented the State from going out of the Union.

Edgar M. Marble, law officer of the Interior Department, is to be appointed Commissioner of Patents, and J. C. McCannon will succeed Marble.

Los Angeles county has an immense trade in eggs with San Francisco. Hundreds of dozens are shipped every day, and the trade is constantly increasing.

Soldiers warrants have been laid upon a ranch near Eureka which was not properly entered and lively times are expected.

NEW TO-DAY.

Dissolution of Co-Partnership.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN THAT THE Copartnership heretofore existing between F. Heilbron and F. L. Dames, under the firm name of Heilbron & Dames, in the butchering business, at the Standard Market, corner of Lowe and Mills streets, in the town of Bodie, County of Mono, California, is hereby dissolved by mutual consent. THE CHRONICLE.

BODIE, APRIL 1, 1880.

The CHRONICLE Office is on the second floor of "Goodson's Building," east side of Main street, between Standard Avenue and Green street.

JOB PRINTING.—Job printing of the finest description will be furnished at this office at Sacramento prices.

LOCAL INTELLIGENCE.

THE LUNCH PAIL.—But few outside of a mining camp have an idea of the work consequent on running a hotel in such camps. In addition to the regular meals, which commence at 5 o'clock in the morning, and continue nearly all day, and up to 8 o'clock in the evening, well regulated hotels has a lunch steward whose duty it is to put up lunches for the miners to take with them to their work. For instance, the Bodie Hotel, kept by Tower & Fullride, put up every day 65 lunches—and elaborate ones at that. The lunch steward knows every man's lunch bucket, and what to put up for each whether coffee or tea, sugar or no sugar. He knows who wants butter on his bread and who not; who likes milk in his drink, or prefers his coffee or tea, like his whiskey, straight. It is quite a sight to walk into the dining room of the Bodie Hotel and see some 65 or 70 lunch buckets, clean and bright, ranged in line waiting for their owners to take them up the hill.

MORE SHOOTING.—A shooting affray occurred at Miners' Exchange Dance Hall, at a late hour on Tuesday night, in which Samuel Black, an ex-policeman was shot by Jessie Pierce, who was having a melee with a dance girl named Kitty Wells, Black taking the part of the girl, which caused Pierce to shoot him. Officer Withrow happened along and placed Pierce under arrest. Dr. Rogers was called to the wounded man. The ball entered under the left shoulder blade, ranged upwards and lodged in the neck. At 10 o'clock last evening Black was resting easy, but its an even thing as to his recovery or death. Pierce is in custody in charge of Jailor Kergan.

COURT PROCEEDINGS.—In Justice Newman's Court, yesterday, Lung Ping, Chinawoman, was found guilty of assault and battery and fined $22, which she paid. James Courtney, for theft, was discharged, and costs taxed against complaintant.

In Justice Peterson's Court, David Bannon was found guilty of fighting. Is to appear for sentence this morning.

THE MASQUERADE.—The Masquerade Ball to be given this evening at Miners' Union Hall by three P's will be one of the finest affairs ever gotten up in this city. A large number of our best citizens have been invited and the attendance will be large, and the costumes varied and elegant. It is hinted that the CHRONICLE corps of fair compositors will be well represented.

HOSE HORSE.—West & Bryant, with their usual liberality and public spirit, have donated the use of a lot for Neptune Hose Company next south of their store. The building will be ready in a few days, when the Neptunes will take possession. This will place the company in a good position to do effective duty.

KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS SOCIAL.—The Knights of Pythias will give a social at Odd Fellows' Hall on Wednesday evening next, when members of the order will be entertained by the members with music, etc., and a collation. All members of the Order are invited to be present.

NEW SUPERINTENDENT.—A. N. Harris, for a long time foreman of the South Bodie, has been appointed Superintendent of the Bodie Bluff and South Bodie mines, vice H. C. Callahan, resigned.

DISSOLVED.—The firm of Heilbron & Dames, of the Standard Market, has been dissolved. Heilbron continues the business at the old stand.

LUNDY POSTMASTER.—H. H Moody, has been appointed Postmaster for Lundy, Homer District.

Two lawyers were stopped by footpads the other night in Los Angeles, and on refusing to "throw up their hands" were knocked down. The robbers got nothing, but had the fun of going through their victims. They must have been new hands at the business; otherwise they would know better than to expect to get any money from lawyers and printers.

The Texas Republican State Convention adopted the following: "While we recognize that General Grant is the choice of the Republicans of Texas, it is considered inexpedient to instruct the delegation to Chicago further than to vote as a unit for President."

C. H. Phillips has retired from the editorial chair of the Southern California Advocate, published at San Luis Obispo, and is succeeded by W. M. Armstrong. The Advocate is a good paper, and we wish it continued success.

The Superior Court has decided that local Boards of Education have the right to change text books without an enabling act from the Legislature.

Mrs. Sargent, who is creating a furor in the Eastern States, as the Chinese champion, once kept a lodging house in Oakland, and is a well known character.

An Oaklander recently deceased left $30,000 to his wife and daughter. The county was asked to bury the old man by his dear relatives.

In San Luis Obispo county 37½ cents a pound has been refused for the spring wool clips. Verily, the sheep men are having a boom.

The name of the Ione Valley Postoffice, Amador county, has been changed to Ione.

Hollister has had a small pox scare.
